

Product Spotlight: Coconut milk

Coconut milk is the liquid that comes from blending the coconut flesh with water. It gives a great background flavour to curries and dressings.

1. COOK THE NOODLES

Bring a saucepan of water to a boil. Add noodles and cook for 15-18 minutes or until tender. Drain and rinse well.

2. PREPARE THE VEGETABLES

Meanwhile, trim and halve snow peas, slice capsicum and carrot (see notes). Drain and rinse adzuki beans. Set aside.

3. STIR-FRY THE VEGETABLES

Heat a large frypan over high heat with oil (see notes). Add prepared vegetables and cook for 4-5 minutes until just tender. Season with 1 tsp soy sauce and pepper. Remove from pan.

4. SIMMER THE SAUCE

Reduce pan heat to medium-high. Add 2 tbsp oil, crumbled stock cube and spice mix. Cook for 1 minute until fragrant. Pour in coconut milk and 2 cups water. Bring to boil and simmer for 5 minutes. Add 1/2 lime zest and juice and season to taste with soy sauce.

5. FINISH AND SERVE

Divide noodles, stir-fry vegetables and adzuki beans among bowls. Ladle over coconut broth. Chop coriander and wedge remaining lime. Use to garnish.
