NOTES

If you don't feel like whipping the cauliflower, you can roast the florets with a spice of choice in the oven and toss through the salad at the end.

1. ROAST THE CHICKEN

Preheat oven to 220°C. Pat chicken dry and coat with seasoning of choice (see tip). Place on a lined oven tray, skin-side up, and roast for 25–30 minutes or until golden and cooked through. Set aside to rest.

TIP Try seasoning with garlic powder, dried oregano, or smoked paprika for extra flavour. We used a pre made harissa paste.

2. COOK THE CAULIFLOWER

Bring a saucepan of water to boil (see notes). Cut cauliflower into florets and add to boiling water. Cook for 10–12 minutes until tender. Drain and blend with a stick mixer or food processor until smooth. Season with salt and pepper to taste.

TIP Add butter, fresh thyme or garlic for extra richness. A splash of cream or olive oil can also enhance the texture and flavour.

3. PREPARE THE SALAD

Cut tomatoes into wedges and toss with mesclun leaves. Drizzle with dressing of choice and toss to coat.

TIP A simple vinaigrette of olive oil, lemon juice, and Dijon mustard works beautifully.

4. FINISH AND SERVE

Slice roasted chicken and serve over a bed of whipped cauliflower. Plate alongside the fresh salad.

TIP Garnish with cracked black pepper, fresh herbs, or a sprinkle of toasted almonds for crunch.
