NOTES

A pre-made khorma, madras or rogan josh curry paste can be used for this dish. If using dry spices, try adding black mustard seeds, cumin seeds, ground cinnamon or cardamom for extra flavour. Garam masala can also be used instead of curry powder.

You can bulk this dish out by adding tinned chickpeas or lentils to the simmering curry.

No gluten option – Lebanese flatbread is replaced with GF Lebanese flatbread.

Protein upsize – tinned lentils. Drain and add to curry after simmering.

1. SAUTÉ THE VEGETABLES

Heat a large pan over medium heat with oil. Dice sweet potato (1cm), cut cauliflower into small florets and wedge tomatoes. Add vegetables to the pan as you go, seasoning with salt and pepper.

TIP You can also add diced onion or zucchini if you have some on hand.

2. ADD AROMATICS AND SIMMER.

Stir in 1–2 tbsp curry powder or paste (see notes). Peel, grate and add ginger. Sauté for 2 minutes until fragrant. Pour in coconut milk and 1 cup water. Bring to a gentle simmer, cover and cook for 10–12 minutes, until vegetables are tender.

TIP Add a few curry leaves, a dash of soy sauce, or 1 tsp brown sugar for added depth of flavour.

3. TOAST THE FLATBREAD

Meanwhile, brush flatbread with oil. Toast in a dry pan for 30 seconds each side or until golden and warmed through. Tear or slice into triangles for serving.

TIP Sprinkle with cumin, chilli flakes or rub with crushed garlic before toasting for extra flavour.

4. FINISH AND SERVE

Stir through baby spinach until just wilted. Season curry with salt and pepper to taste. Serve curry with flatbreads and garnish with chopped coriander.

TIP Add a squeeze of lime juice or a spoonful of yoghurt on top for a fresh finish.
